Summary

I am a software developer who creates and maintains web applications using .NET framework, networking, and ASP.NET. I work at a company that delivers high-quality and innovative solutions to our clients, with the help of a team of talented and passionate developers.

I am also pursuing a diploma of computer engineering from Kongu Polytechnic College, which will enhance my knowledge and credentials in the field. I have 10 months of experience in this role, and I am constantly learning and improving my competencies. I have developed multiple web applications using Firebase and XML, and I have completed a generic online training in cyber security. My goal is to become a proficient and versatile software developer who can contribute to the advancement of technology and society.
